

The items in the document can be entered on-line. First, save the document in one of your own folders, name it, and remember where you saved it. Then, answer the questions in each space provided—just place your cursor in the spot and start typing. When you have completed the form, save it again and attach it to an email to lynn@parsonsassociates.net.

FRSSI 2005 Interactive Seminars: Planning Team Recommendations

Planning Team member:

General comments or recommendations about the agenda or registration form:

Recommendations for presenters

Name	Contact Information	Why do you recommend this person?
A. What does my students' work tell me about their learning and my teaching? (Looking at student work)
B. How can I use data I have to improve my teaching—and my students' learning? (Using data to inform instruction)
C. How can we respond systemically to students who aren't learning? (Whatever it takes—responding when kids don't learn)
D. How can my team ensure that we are all aligning instruction and assessment with our curriculum? (Curriculum mapping—a tool for continuous quality improvement)
E. How can we document our school's improvement in teaching and learning? (Portfolios for looking at school progress)

The items in the document can be entered on-line. First, save the document in one of your own folders, name it, and remember where you saved it. Then, answer the questions in each space provided—just place your cursor in the spot and start typing. When you have completed the form, save it again and attach it to an email to lynn@parsonsassociates.net.

Name	Contact Information	Why do you recommend this person?
F. How can we learn from each other? (Peer coaching and peer observation)
G. How do I improve my leadership and facilitation of learning communities? (Facilitating and leading learning communities)
H. How can we practice collective inquiry and make our learning communities action oriented? (Developing and implementing teacher research projects)
I. How can parents and community members have meaningful roles in school learning communities? (Involving parents and community members in school decision-making)
J. How can we move from mere cooperation to authentic collaboration? (Deepening community collaboration)

Suggestions for additional seminars: